

HAD CHRONIC BRONCHITIS FOR TWENTY-SIX YEARS NOW WELL AND HAPPY THIS IS WORTH READING

The experience of Mr. E. J. Tou-palik, 1438 Rose street, LaCrosse, Wisconsin, is chiefly remarkable on account of the length of time he was afflicted.

He writes: "I have been suffering with chronic bronchitis for twenty-six years and every winter I would catch cold and become so hoarse I could not speak for six or eight weeks. I could get only temporary relief.

"This winter I was taken with Grip and was in awful shape. A fellow workman advised me to take PE-RU-NA. By the time I had used three-fourths of a bottle, the hoarseness was gone, also that tired feeling. I am on my second bottle. Hereafter PE-RU-NA will be constantly in my house. It is the best medicine ever put up for the purpose."

For any disease due to catarrh or catarrhal conditions, PE-RU-NA is equally dependable. Coughs, colds, catarrh of the head, stomach trouble, constipation, rheumatism, pains in the back, side and loins, bloating, belching gas, indigestion, catarrh of the large and small intestines, are some of the troubles for which PE-RU-NA is especially recommended.

PE-RU-NA can be purchased anywhere in either tablet or liquid form.

RIVAL STYLES IN EVENING FROCKS

A review of lovely evening gowns made for the younger set, convinces us that many a fair lady intends to turn her back upon society this winter. Let us hope these backs will all be comely and that society will be regaled with lines that are beautiful and skins that are fair; for society is going to have a chance to pass opinion upon backs unadorned. It is said that a beautiful back is the rarest of nature's gifts to fair women, and there is a fad for the almost backless bodice.

A conservative example of the style in an evening frock of shell pink, is shown above at the right of the two evening gowns pictured. Very wide moire ribbon, matching the net in color, constitutes what there is of foundation for the bodice and is featured in a sash with a wide Alsatian bow and long ends at the back, finishing the wide loose girdle about the waist. The net is very full and draped over a soft silk underskirt in cascades that end in points at the bottom. Moire ribbon forms the foundation for the front of the bodice and there is a drapery of net over silk that extends over the shoulders and is lost under the girdle at the front. Silks shot with gold or silver make beautiful undershirts.

The frock at the left is more youthful and less sophisticated than the net frock. It is made of georgette, with a fancy silk trimming stitched in straight rows on the skirt and diagonally on the bodice. Soft net is set in the "V" shaped bodice and a silk daisy chain is a charming detail at the top of the short sleeve on the right shoulder. The sash is of plain, narrow satin ribbon with a rosette and two short ends to finish it. Matching with this trim little detail, the skirt is restrained at the bottom where it is gathered in and finished with a narrow, quilt-looking frill. In character, both are beautiful and the more daring frock at the right has no advantage over its more youthful rival. There is no use trying to outshine the charm of youthfulness anyway.

MATCHED SETS AND NECKWEAR

In autumn dress accessories, scarfs play the leading role and in scarfs those of angora wool lead the others in popularity. Angora collar and cuff sets replace those of lace on street suits and promise to grow more popular as cold weather advances. These angora accessories are nearly all shown in quiet colors, but there are a few vivid hues among the narrower scarfs.

The straight fur scarf—more or less wide and long—has emerged from a brief exile to find itself more adored than ever—and much more valuable in money. There are many good imitations of fur in scarfs of fur fabrics that can be commended as just as warm and serviceable and less expensive. Besides these, marabout scarfs and capes, and other neckpieces of ostrich fluff, add attractions to the assemblage of neckpieces. All of this neckwear becomes more interesting as the holidays draw near, and collar and cuff sets of batiste, lace, organdie and crochet, already intrigue us to begin holiday shopping early.

Creme-de-chine figures in the collection of neckwear in the shops, in small scarfs to be worn with shirtwaists, and in narrow flat ties finished at the ends with beads or crocheted rings and beads. Narrow ribbon, both in silk and velvet, is used in the same way, the ends finished off with beads or flower forms made of the ribbon or little balls covered with it.

Gold or silver brocade and monkey fur are responsible for many odd and beautiful fancies in the realm of dress accessories. They are very well launched on a career that promises to go on aspiring and climbing until it blossoms out at the winter resorts in the most imposing of fashion parades. There is a fondness for glitter everywhere—the fashion world has turned its back upon all that is sedate or severe in styles wherever there is any chance to be gay or splendid. Two-piece and three-piece sets give all sorts of opportunity for using these spirited elements of the styles.

Monkey fur and silver brocade make the handsome turban and shopping bag shown at the left of the two matched sets illustrated here. The fur makes a distinctive millinery trimming and takes the place of heron aigrettes, which are not worn by American women with a sense of loyalty to the laws. It makes a new sort of fringe also, used in many ways on hats and gowns. The three-piece set, at the right of the picture utilizes plain and gold brocade black satin ribbon in an assembly of hat, scarf and bag that is in the class of clothes for formal dress.

Kidney disease is no respecter of persons. It attacks young and old alike. In most cases the victim is warned of the approaching danger. Nature fights back. Backache only a Symptom

"It Seems as Though my Back Would Break."

This is a common expression among women, yet they toil on day after day heedless of the significance of this distressing symptom.

Backache is often a warning of some inward trouble that requires attention, and which unless relieved will sooner or later declare itself in more serious ailments.

If it is caused by female derangement Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is what you need. It quickly asserts its curative powers in all those peculiar ailments of women.

For more than thirty years this good old fashioned root and herb medicine has been restoring American women to health.

The Splendid Recovery of Mrs. Coventry

Newark, N. J.—"The doctor said I had organic trouble and treated me for several weeks. At times I could not walk at all and I suffered with my back and legs so I often had to stay in bed. I suffered off and on for eight years. Finally I heard that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was a good medicine, and I tried it with splendid effect. I can now do my housework and my washing. I have recommended your Vegetable Compound and Blood Medicine and three of my friends are taking it to their advantage. You may use my name for a testimonial."—Mrs. THERESA COVENTRY, 75 Burnett St., Newark, N. J.

Mrs. Hunt tells how it helped her Detroit, Mich.—"I was in a general run-down condition, was very nervous and tired, had backache and other troubles. I suffered for several years, was not able to work at times and tried doctor's medicine with no results. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised, and after taking it a short time I was much better. I am still taking it myself and giving it to my daughter, and am glad to recommend Vegetable Compound at anytime."—Mrs. M. E. Hunt, 1717 Davison Ave.
